

Outsource SMART – Official Samsung Distributor

Outsource SMART is now an official distributor for Samsung Smart School, Samsung tablets and Samsung phones

Outsource SMART is a division of the Outsource Group and has been appointed by Samsung Electronics South Africa as their Solutions Integrator and Distribution Partner for Southern Africa.

As the Solutions Integrator, Outsource SMART operates as a partner who brings together the technology and components of the Samsung Education offering. We commercially package, market and distribute the Samsung Education solution to schools and educational institutions wishing to digitize learning environments through a network of re-sellers country wide.

Our direct distribution allows us to offer our customers full access to Samsung Mobile Tablets, phones, screens and accessories. Thus providing our customers the benefit of purchasing from a Tier 1 distributor.

We have a fully operational demonstration classroom in our Kyalami head office in which we run open days and training sessions from Wednesday to Friday, every week. Commencing in February we are building additional digitized classrooms country wide. Outsource SMART will also be appointing resellers throughout the country to sell the Samsung Smart School solution and the related products that Outsource SMART have the rights to distribute.

Outsource SMART is led by David Morris and we proudly welcome him to Outsource Group. David has over 10 years' experience in the distribution of mobile devices and accessories working as a Commercial Director for leading mobile companies.
